INTRODUCTION

Do you wonder about the more amorous nature of a particular sign? In The Sensual Zodiac, I'll examine in more detail how a woman born under each sign will live her life. I'll discuss how she acts while making love, what she likes, and how she will determine the right man for her. Lastly, I'll discuss what turns her on, what turns her off, and where on her body she is the most sensitive.

— Konstantin Lucas

The Sensual Zodiac

ARIES (MARCH 21ST – APRIL 19TH)

In Life

Like the heavens themselves, the Zodiac starts with a very big bang. All that is, was, and is to come plumes outward from the Aries female. She has an energy and charisma that fills any room she enters. She can talk about any subject, overcome any challenge, and defeat any opponent. There is no stopping this girl.

There's just one problem. For all these dynamic qualities she possesses, her energy moves in one direction. And it doesn't wait for the light to turn green. She is constantly restless. The question of whether patience is a virtue is not something she'll even take time to consider. For the most part, she's either loved or hated. But she's got enough confidence not to care. She knows what she wants, and that's all there is to it.

In Love

This may not seem like the ideal woman. Who wants an impatient, overbearing lover? You have her all wrong. She's only that way with other people. Her man, if he's the right one, is a different matter entirely. He has the confidence to match hers, a sense of adventure to maintain a constant level of excitement, and a fearlessness to take risks.

Therefore, he will know a devotion and loyalty that few other signs can provide. That's the thing about her. She doesn't second guess herself. Once she's decided what she wants, she doesn't change her mind. Therefore, Aries women have a tendency toward really brief relationships or a single very long one. There's no gray area for the Aries romance. You're either right for her, or you're not. And if you are, her loyalty completely makes up for her shortcomings, which she will emphatically deny she has.

In Bed

Aries is all about Aries, which would be a bad thing if it weren't for that limitless energy pouring from her. It takes a lot to satisfy her ferocious appetite, and she won't let her lover rest until she's completely satisfied. He's going to be up all night trying to give her some sense of satiety. Think about that. It's not such a bad deal.

No other sign is as unrelenting and powerful in bed as Aries. (Leos would disagree, and that combination makes for an interesting contest.) The right lover for an Aries will possess a lot of confidence, which is matched in proportion to a good deal of stamina. He's going to need it. If he has those qualities, she'll generously reward him for his efforts.

TAURUS (APRIL 20TH – MAY 20TH)

In Life

As the Zodiac moves into Taurus, things move forward in a much more orderly, predictable fashion. Taurus is that perfectly straight line from Point A to Point B. Wherever it is she's going, the route is well charted on the map. There are no scenic side trips and no impulsive stops at roadside vegetable stands. There is a destination, and without a hint of deviation, she's going to get there according to plan.

To many, she may seem incapable of appreciating the beauty of the journey. The wildly impulsive, aggressively adventurous and wistfully frivolous need not apply. She's no more interested in you than you are in her, because you'd be a distraction from her pursuit of getting to Point B, which is the point where she feels that there is security in her life.

She can appreciate beauty, but she appreciates it at the end of the journey. With gratification long delayed, she wants to come home to the same beautiful house, the same gorgeous loyal man and her wonderful children. The aesthetics are very much there for the Taurus woman. But they're all at the end of the road to happiness.

In Love

Taurus women sometimes have a hard time finding the right man. One problem is that love can be so unpredictable and she's not one to gamble on it. If it takes a few more years to find The One, then so be it. She has more than enough patience to wait. Again, as with all things in her life, love must be part of the practical means to a certain end.

On a date, two things will particularly catch a Taurus woman's attention. She will tune in closely when he's talking about his past. She's not being judgmental, but she is searching for someone who has laid out his goals and reasonably pursued them. She needs to see some stability.

The other way he gets her attention is talking about the things he owns. She's not a materialistic gold digger—that is far too impractical for her. To her, a man who owns nice things is a man with a solid future. She doesn't want his things. She wants to know that tomorrow everything will be like it is today. He will be with her, and they will enjoy prosperity together. If he shows her that he's going to Point B, too, her devotion is powerful and unwavering.

In Bed

This kind of steadfast woman might not seem the type to make a good lover, but in fact, the opposite is true. She does, however, approach sex in a different fashion than many do. As in love and life, there must be a rational reason for this route. And it's not hard to arrive at a practical purpose for sex: healthy, passionate sex can easily secure the bonds of a successful relationship. It is a mutually pleasurable means to a mutually pleasurable end.

That does mean, though, that she's not going to be interested in threesomes or one-night stands. Most often, Taurus women, while quite sexual, are ultra-monogamous. Within that context, she can really let go and explore the kinkier sides to sex. For example, I have a Taurus friend who is probably the most shameless exhibitionist I've ever known. She and her boyfriend love to have an audience. But such displays are not for adventure's sake as they are for some. She's just showing off, declaring what other women can't have, a sort of "He's mine and mine alone."

And so with Taurus, that's how to unleash the passions that lie beneath the surface. Give her complete devotion, make her feel secure in a certain future, and she will make for a delightful companion on the journey there.

The Sensual Zodiac

GEMINI (MAY 21ST – JUNE 21ST)

In Life

Gemini certainly has her place amongst the adventurous signs of the zodiac. Understanding her requires recognition that her restlessness is not derived from active energy like Aries or unrelenting ambition like Capricorn. She does not pursue change. She opens her mind to the world and embraces whatever may come.

A Gemini possesses an insatiable curiosity about everything and anything. She will not plunge to the depths of a pint of ice cream. She'd much rather taste a spoonful of a thousand flavors. And afterward, she will not be satisfied until she finds a thousand more.

And these are Gemini's strengths and shortcomings. Her mind is quick, her wit sharp, and her brilliance blinding. No one can carry on a conversation about anything as effortlessly as a Gemini. The problem is that her knowledge is a mile wide, but an inch deep. She is a vast library of knowledge, but it's filled with quick-reference encyclopedias rather than comprehensive works.

In Love

This is not the woman to settle down quickly. Women born under this sign have a fleeting attention span that makes it difficult to catch their interest long enough to form a traditional romance. And such a thing would probably not appeal to the Gemini woman. The happily ever after story doesn't offer her the mental stimuli that constantly changing circumstances do.

This makes her seem a bit shallow and fearful of commitment, which isn't necessarily the case. If this woman is to be held to a single man, he must be absolutely fascinating. He must be the source of new ideas and experiences that she seeks. Like her, he must be able to talk about everything and anything, and more than happy to move on to the next topic when the previous one has only just begun.

The kind of man that would be happy with a Gemini is the kind who won't seek to plunge into deep emotional depths in a dramatic romance. Simply put, the man that's right for Gemini will understand that there is not some great trait for which you could love her forever and ever. Instead, there are 1001 reasons why you want to be with her right now in this very moment.

In Bed

Geminis like their lovers the same way they like their ice cream. There of course are always exceptions in these cases, but most Gemini women enjoy the affections of many men along the way. Promiscuous is probably not the best way to describe her, because that would imply some kind of pursuit. She's not on the prowl. She's just open to whatever new experience may come her way.

For the adventurous male who doesn't mind an experienced woman, she's definitely a delight. She's open to experimentation and willing to try anything you can dream up. In many ways, this makes her an ideal lover, and many men will try to hold onto her. Only the most creative lover who comes up with new and interesting ways to make each day unique will succeed in holding her affections. The prize for your efforts is a witty, interesting woman, who's not clingy or demanding and quite willing to go along for the ride — as long as the ride always takes her where she's never been before.

CANCER (JUNE 22ND – JULY 22ND)

In Life

Cancers are a strange mix of determination and hypersensitivity. This comes from being a cardinal/water sign. Signs with the cardinal quality are determined people. They pursue their goals directly, through initiation and active pursuit. But Cancer is also a water sign. Signs with this temperament are emotional, intuitive and sensitive, and the two natures create conflict in the Cancer woman.

She is determined to get what she wants. The problem is, she's so sensitive that she must always be on the defensive while moving actively toward her goals. She is very much like the crab that symbolizes her. She hides underneath a hard exterior shell as she makes her way to a safe home deep under the sand.

This duality often catches potential admirers off guard. She is bright, sunny and, above all, charming, just the traits that will drive many men crazy. But then, for reasons that often aren't readily apparent, her feelings are hurt.

Being a water sign, it's unusual for her to lash out and attack. That's not to say that if pushed too far, she won't use those pincers to fight back, but it's usually more in her tendency to pout. And her pout is far worse than her pinch. It becomes a painful silence that communicates all too loudly what she is feeling inside.

In Love

This may make a Cancer woman sound very high-maintenance, and she does have to be handled carefully. The skillful man, however, will be rewarded for his tact. No other sign in the zodiac possesses greater loyalty than Cancer. When she finds a man who handles her delicate nature and makes her feel emotionally secure, she is unwavering in her devotion. She will have eyes for no other.

Konstantin Lucas

Because she is cautious about giving her heart away, her search for the right man can be a long one. Part of the problem, too, is that she's not flamboyant in her affections. So, when she flirts with a man who has caught her eye, she's very subtle. Unless the guy is perceptive, he may miss her tacit invitations. She, being so sensitive, will interpret his unresponsiveness as rejection and never attempt again.

She may lose a few opportunities this way, but on the other hand, she needs the intuitive type who'll read the depth of emotions that exist within her. With a Cancer, a serious wound will be forgiven only after a lengthy period of pouting has been wrought and proper amends have been made. This forgiveness, though, will only be in the mind. Her heart will never truly forget.

Just as readily, she won't ever forget an act of kindness. She assigns an emotional value to all gifts, and will treasure whatever is given to her as an act of love. It's likely she has a large collection of photographs and a hidden shoebox full of old love letters. Cancers wrap themselves in memories.

In Bed

If things have progressed this far, a Cancer will reveal all that lies beneath her protective exterior. She makes love with an enthusiastic passion that comes from the side of her that is determined and forceful. This is not to say she's the dominating type. She is actually quite feminine. But when she makes love, those dual sides of her nature combine synergistically. Cancer's deep well of emotion becomes a resource of sensuality that gushes out through her determined spirit in a display of intense sexuality.

The part of the body ruled by Cancer is the breasts, and because of this, her breasts are especially sensitive. Of course, for many women, the breasts are a major erogenous zone, but for the Cancers, this is especially true. It's unlikely she'll ask for it, because that would leave her too vulnerable. But an intuitive lover will spend plenty of time caressing, licking and stroking the breasts. Foreplay that pays lots of attention to breasts will be most effective, and they should not be ignored in the throes of passion.

As she is sensitive in love, she is sensitive in bed. An aggressive display that lacks sensitivity will not turn her on. She's gentle and is most comfortable when her lover is equally gentle. As with all aspects of Cancer's love, the key to her heart is tenderness and a tactful balance of passion and sensitivity.

LEO (JULY 23RD – AUGUST 22ND)

In Life

Leos are the sign of sex and creativity. Therefore, when it comes to love, Leos rock the zodiac. I don't need to tell a Leo this, because she will instinctively sense it. She is exuberant, absolutely spectacular in bed, energetic, and inexhaustible. The sign Leo is ruled by the sun, and like the sun, the Leo woman wants to be the brightest star in the sky. For a Leo to feel loved, she must feel adored at every passing second.

Is this vain and egotistical? There are some rumors floating around that Leos have a tendency to dominate, are conceited, and expect more than they're willing to give. Now, as a Leo, I would say that these claims are apocryphal and accuse the other signs of envy. But as an astrologer, I must be objective. Perhaps, on occasion, we Leos can be a bit overbearing.

The Leo woman needs to sit squarely, unambiguously on the throne. No matter what she does, she'll do it in a very big way. And when she finds her proper place prominently in the heavens, she shines down upon everyone, bringing sunshine on even the dreariest of days. So, if she's a bit vain sometimes, it's a small flaw amongst so many strengths.

In Love

The Lioness will always make a grand entrance, and will instantly draw men toward her. She is charming, funny, and puts on a display that promises to make her the center of attention. She is not for the jealous male that cannot bare the thought of another man lusting after his girl. They will, and an attempt to deprive her of all the attention she deserves will send her off to find a more suitable lover.

There is, therefore, much competition among men who seek a lioness mate. So, what will put you ahead in the running? That's simple. Praise and adoration.

Konstantin Lucas

If you can make her feel more stunning and superior to any other female in the history of mankind, you will gain her fancy. And in return, she will do everything to live up to your assessment of her, because it's obviously accurate.

How can someone so vain and in love with herself ever love another? She can, and if you capture her heart, she will. But you have to understand how Leo's love works. For her, romance is a grand display of herself. She is the star of a performance, and you are the audience. She will delight you with her talents and abilities, and you will be warmed by her glow. After all, she has so much to give, and you're the lucky one she's chosen to give it to.

In this roundabout way, a Leo's love is a bit selfish, but it is never boring. She will bring a smile and lift you to new heights. Putting up with her conceit is well worth the reward.

In Bed

This is where the biggest reward is to be found. For a Leo, the bed is a canvas on which she paints her masterpiece. Once again, she has a deep desire to put on a grand performance that will end with a standing ovation from her love. Well, not quite standing. More like collapsed from exhaustion, but satisfied in a way he has never experienced in his life with any other woman. No other sign is more sexual than Leo. Aries women run a close second, because of their energy. But Leo combines energy with creative self-expression.

Make no mistake about it, she will like to be on top and in control. And she likes it with the lights on, so you can see all the amazing things she is capable of. Call out her name, tell her how great she is (during and after), and she will always leave you wanting more.

The part of the body ruled by Leo is the back. A backrub will always get her purring. It makes for great foreplay or the right move to put her in the mood. It also doesn't hurt to throw in plenty of compliments about her body, her voice—whatever. She will lap it up, and never really get enough.

Loving a Leo requires a lot of tact and adaptability. It's not for everyone. But for many, it's the wild ride that no other sign could provide. She will bring light, life, and fun into your life. Just don't forget to shower her with a love bordering on worship, and the show will go on and on and on.

The Sensual Zodiac

VIRGO (AUGUST 23RD – SEPTEMBER 22ND)

In Life

It makes sense that Virgo, symbolized by the virgin, follows Leo in the zodiac. If Leo is that night of passion when all your inhibitions are released and you seek pleasure for the sake of pleasure itself, then Virgo is the morning after.

Virgo is the sign of self-reflection, analysis and conscientiousness. As with all earth signs, a Virgo woman keeps her passions in check and is never comfortable with an outward display of emotion. Because of this, she is often mistaken for being callous and cold, but that is not the case. She's just not a fan of unpredictability, and emotions are too unreliable for her tastes. But there is much more going on beneath the surface.

In Love

With everything she wants, Virgo needs to know what she's getting into before committing to any course of action. The man who will successfully pursue a Virgo will need to be ultra-patient and intuitive. She's not going to throw herself into his arms without a long period of consideration.

Once she has determined a course of action, she will not waver from her decision. So, she is very devoted when she chooses her man. But the Virgo mind is analytical. She will continue to examine the relationship in very intellectual terms throughout. And she will seek to find ways to improve it.

Often, this can make her seem a bit critical and impossible to please, because she's always seeking improvement. But this is her way of achieving a sense of security. She's a worrier, and without a sense that things are improving, she can't feel at ease with the relationship. So, a man who can't take criticism is not going to fare well with a Virgo.

In Bed

Human sexuality is complicated, so within each sign, there's much individual variation. But when it comes to your typical Virgo, you can put away the whips and chains. She's just not the experimental type. A flamboyant display will put her off, so it's best to proceed carefully and not make any unpredictable moves.

This all makes her appear to be boring in bed, which isn't the case. Beyonce Knowles, a Virgo, is the best example of how Virgo can be so prudent yet sexy. All her lyrics reflect that, especially those of her single, "Check On It." If you listen to this song, you'll have Virgo's sexual nature in a nutshell. She deeply, sincerely wants to please her lover, and is quite capable of doing so. But unlike other signs, she needs to know the full score. And a forceful or reckless display will quickly turn her off. But once she feels she knows what to expect, she will let go of all she has to offer. And when you hold back for as long as she will, the release is spectacular.

The Sensual Zodiac

LIBRA (SEPTEMBER 23RD – OCTOBER 22ND)

In Life

The cycle of the zodiac, from Aries to Pisces, can be viewed as the development of a single person. Aries, the first sign, is the sign of self. It is concerned with the most basic of human desires. Each sign after that, builds upon the self. Taurus seeks a person's most practical needs, possessions. Gemini seeks the self's intellectual needs and so on.

Everything changes once we get to Libra, the opposite of Aries. Libra is the first sign that begins to look at its relationship to others. It is the sign of basic partnerships. Every sign that follows Libra builds and expands upon this foundation, looking outward beyond the development of the self. Being the first sign with an outward look, she's the balance between the needs of the self and those of others—or at least an attempt to be so.

In Love

Libras are very much into beauty. Taurus can be the same way, but within a practical pursuit of security. Taurus surrounds herself with beautiful things. For Libra, the pursuit of beauty is an intellectual one. She creates a beautiful environment for herself that is more than just possessions, but rather exhibits qualities of peace, serenity and justice, which satisfy the romance she has with romance itself. The emotional demands of a real relationship do not appeal to her as much as the poetry romance inspires.

Libra must find a lover who can relate to this, one independent enough not to burden her with too many emotional needs. It's not that she's insensitive, but beauty to her is peace and balance. So, she has a tendency to consider many points of view. If, for example, her lover has been hurt by someone's remarks, she will try to comfort him by pointing out that the offender may have meant no offense at all. The more sensitive types will want simple sympathy, which is not really her style.

The Libra's partner will also have to be diverse enough in thought to stimulate her mental interests. This means being able to disagree with her, and accept that she disagrees with him. In her pursuit of balance, she can sometimes play council to the wrongly accused Prince of Darkness. A display of intolerance for any point of view will disrupt the beauty of the environment, and the offending element will have to be removed.

In Bed

Libras are all about aesthetics, especially in the bedroom. She can't be expected to do it in the backseat of a car, and an aggressive display will turn her off. She likes passion, romance and flair, but primitive, raw sexuality doesn't do it for her. Love must appeal to her romantic sensibilities before her body shows any interest.

Libras can be very giving in bed, at least as much as they receive. She will please her lover at least to the degree that he pleases her. The part of the body ruled by Libra is the lower back, and a well-timed, creative and skilled massage that targets this area will have her purring. But whatever happens, it must be beautiful. Without that, the Libra is lost.

SCORPIO (OCTOBER 23RD – NOVEMBER 21ST)

In Life

The way a Scorpio carries herself can be deceiving. She always has a patient, calm and cool demeanor. But beneath her perfect poise is a wealth of emotions, and when they are released—hell hath no fury. These qualities make for a very intense and unpredictable woman, who requires some tact to handle. Yet they also make for a powerful ally whose devotion can be as intense as her often-cathartic expressions.

Like all people born under water signs, she is very sensitive. And a Scorpio's sense of other people's feelings borders on the telepathic. No other sign can see better into the motivations of others. She is not above using this to her advantage when necessary, but often she uses it to develop a deep understanding of others.

In Love

A Scorpio does not fall in love easily, but when she does, it's no casual matter. She can be independent, but a solid, stable and loving relationship is still very important to her; she's not likely to settle for a series of passing flings. If you're not one for making a commitment, you're not her type.

And she's not the sort to share. She is very possessive of her lovers. The flip side of this characteristic is the loyalty she extends to the object of her devotion. Scorpions don't waver when it comes to love. To have a Scorpio lover is to have a sincere, dependable relationship. In that one aspect, a Scorpio is predictable.

In Bed

Scorpio is one of the most sexual signs in the zodiac. But unlike Leo, whose legendary sexuality is very physical (think Madonna), sex is an emotional experience for a Scorpio. She simply can't separate love from sex. And she doesn't easily separate love from all the other emotions, either. As such, she can be passionate, aggressive or tender at any given moment. It depends entirely on her mood, which can change in an instant, and you may not even be aware that it has.

Whatever she is feeling, she is never boring in bed. Scorpios are just as intense when making love as they are anywhere else. She throws herself into giving and receiving pleasure, and is equally good at both. While it takes a lot of patience and tact to handle a Scorpio, the rewards are enormous.

SAGITTARIUS (NOVEMBER 22ND – DECEMBER 21ST)

In Life

Sagittarius is the far-seeing archer, and a woman who seeks such wisdom is not going to be easy to understand in very simple terms. The best way to describe a Sag is to look at her polar opposite, Gemini. A Gemini samples from a wide range of interests, and rarely commits to any of them. A Sag will also explore many interests. But sooner or later, she will set her sights on a particular interest and explore it as fully as possible. Then, she will attempt to take that knowledge further than it has ever gone. For her, there's no such thing as a minor interest.

Because she is a truth seeker, she is easily bored and is always in search of something to satisfy her thirst for knowledge. She bounds through life with a zestful adventurous spirit. She is a forward-looking optimist, who trusts her luck to take her where she needs to go. And that is usually some distance.

In Love

As in life, so it is in love for a Sag. She will most likely have many love interests throughout her life. A wandering sign, Sagittarius is not one to accept a mundane romance or settle down quickly. So, she will explore far and wide for quite some time. And because of her optimistic spirit, she will know few broken hearts. She may leave some along the way, but a Sag has little time for regret. To her, life's for living and tomorrow holds too much promise to worry about the past.

While she is adventurous, she is not shallow. As with anything that piques her interest, when she does find a man who suits her perfectly, she will dive in and see it through. This makes a Sagittarius a devoted lover—but it takes her a long time to find the right one. Fortunately, because she tends to have few regrets about past relationships, she carries little baggage.

In Bed

This is where a Sag excels. She is not promiscuous, but because of her adventurous spirit, she's willing to try anything and everything, and probably has many times; she will do a lot of roaming and exploring before finally settling down with one lover. This makes for an experienced lover who knows how to please her man.

But make no mistake about it, she expects plenty of reciprocation. The thing about Sagittarius is that she has no problem up and leaving an unsatisfying situation. If she feels neglected, she'll be on her way. So, her man should make every effort to show her the enthusiasm she shows him. And this bright, courageous and fun woman deserves nothing less.

CAPRICORN (DECEMBER 22ND – JANUARY 19TH)

In Life

You know how exciting it is when you get a new electronic device: a TV, stereo or computer? You get it home, tear open the package and toss the manual aside, eager for that glorious moment when everything is set up. Then you push the on button and the new toy comes to life. Not so with Capricorn.

Patience is a high virtue with this woman. Not only will she actually read the manual, she'll spend hours shopping for whatever it is she needs. (And she won't buy what she doesn't need.) She'll consider several brands, go to a few stores, and ask the salesperson several questions. Capricorn is a planner like no other sign in the zodiac. She never dives into anything, and must understand all aspects of what she's getting into before she proceeds.

While it takes her much longer, her decisions are almost always wise. No problem catches her by surprise. In a crisis, she's level headed and acts incisively, because she's probably already prepared for the eventuality. For Capricorns, this usually translates into a life of success. She is the model of efficiency and planning.

In Love

She's no different when it comes to matters of the heart. She will not jump into an affair any more than she will casually leave one. The Capricorn woman is as practical as she is cautious. This is because love is a means to a specific end. She needs security.

She shops for men the way she shops for a computer. All aspects of him must be considered. She will keep her distance, studying possibilities and making calculations. And this is the downside to the Capricorn woman. Because of her initial restraint, the first impression she often makes is that she's aloof, distant, uninterested or cold. And she will miss out on some romantic opportunities because of it.

But to her, missing out on an adventurous fling or two is worth the price of waiting for the right man to come along who will be by her side long after the first night has come and gone. Some have made the argument that Capricorns love more deeply than any other sign in the zodiac. But that also means the hurt of an unwise choice affects her much more than others. For a Capricorn, it's all good things to those who wait.

In Bed

It's here that the true inner passions of a Capricorn come alive. When you move through every inch of your life with unwavering self-discipline, you build up a lot of unreleased energy. By the time things reach the bedroom, she's carefully shopped for her man, read the manual cover to cover and done all the troubleshooting. She's safe, secure, and it's time to turn him on. And she will.

Capricorns are ferocious in bed. That's not to say she's going to be comfortable with some kinky variation on a Kama Sutra position. But it is to say she's ready to let go of all that restraint that has kept passion in check for so long. She will, within the confines of traditional positions, show a side to her that will possibly seem out of character, possibly even frightening. In reality, it's who she really is deep down inside, finally showing through. She is a passionate, raging lover. But only the truly worthy will ever see this side of her.

AQUARIUS (JANUARY 20TH – FEBRUARY 18TH)

In Life

Aquarius is a bit hard to summarize, because she's the antithesis of summation. She's not unworldly and mysterious like hypersensitive Scorpio. She's otherworldly, as in, not of this one. Often Aquarius is mistaken for being a highly disorganized and loopy eccentric, which is not the case.

To understand Aquarius, you need to think abstractly in an "out of the box" kind of way. Picture being so easily bored with the thoughts of today that you simply do not have the patience to wait for the future. Rather than wait, you have to expand beyond the mold and see beyond the horizons of convention. That's Aquarius.

Aquarius is a highly intellectual sign whose visions are very future-oriented. In all things she pursues, there is a mental quality that will attract her. She flees from the mundane and the routine, and she has no patience for simple thinking. Keeping that in mind, one can begin to grasp some of her quirky tastes and behaviors.

In Love

Aquarius is a friendly kind of lover. That means her relationships have a tendency toward a certain platonic flavor. She may appear to some to be impersonal and aloof. The more sensitive types will be left feeling rejected and unloved. This is because love is experienced first in Aquarius's mind and only then does the heart follow.

The perfect lover for her is one who is constantly engaging and above all, fascinating. If you can't talk intelligently about a dozen topics in an hour, the date is over and you're going home alone. You simply can't reach an Aquarius with anything short of brilliance.

Konstantin Lucas

This is not to make her appear uncommitted. Aquarius needs to be constantly surprised by the new and unusual, and this does require a very open mind, one not afraid of change. But future-oriented Aquarius is always evolving toward a better tomorrow through the confident embrace of change. Therefore, when she finds the partner who can stimulate her mind, she is utterly devoted and will think in terms of a definite future together.

In Bed

She's not for the reserved. Aquarius likes to experiment, and if you're not willing to sail into uncharted waters, you're going to have a hard time keeping up. You must, in all cases, appeal to her intellectual needs before creating fires in her heart or body. So, sex must have a strong mental dimension to be appealing.

Therefore, leave your routine at the office. Something different and unexpected must be inserted into the bedroom on a regular basis. Once her mind is satisfied, her passions are unleashed, and the change can catch the unwary off guard. So, be prepared. And keep in mind that once a button is pushed, new ones must be found and discovered. The diligent and fearless explorer will always be satisfied, and so will she.

PISCES (FEBRUARY 19TH – MARCH 20TH)

In Life

Like the other water signs, Pisces is emotional and intuitive. But this girl has something else going on. Scorpio has a well of secrets, and Cancer has a penchant for tenacity, but Pisces has an otherworldly quality. There's something about her, and it's hard to put your finger on it. Often, neither can she.

Pisces is the end of the zodiac. Her point in the story is not about growth or self-reflection, but the point right before where all the deeper meanings unravel before your eyes. And as such, she is psychically intuitive. Coming at the end of the story also means bearing all the heavy emotions of a thousand lifetimes. No sign is more sensitive than Pisces, and she can be highly impressionable and easily wounded.

In Love

It's not an easy thing to be a Pisces. But she's far more likely to feel sympathy than receive it. She feels sympathy for everyone, and compassion pours from her onto everyone she touches in life. That's her strength.

Her weakness is escapism. Like Aquarius, she's a dreamer. But Aquarius sees ideals, whereas Pisces envisions fantasies. In one way, this makes her creative and artistic. In another way, it makes her impractical.

So is Pisces in love. No lover, wife or girlfriend will be more concerned about your feelings than her own. She's the one person who will understand you when no one else will. But her man better be just as sensitive. The slightest misstep can cause injury, and she will quickly retreat to her fantasies, which can make it hard for her to take the first steps toward healing.

Konstantin Lucas

The right lover for Pisces is the one who can tread lightly and has an abundance of strength to lend. She possesses her own strengths, but they quickly fade if her man is unsupportive or insensitive.

In Bed

Pisces cannot separate emotion from sex. Even a one-night stand will contain some emotional quality, whether or not it is ever expressed overtly. So, Pisces has a sensuality about her that is just as unworldly as her entire being. Most likely, she will fare well with the kind of lover who can take charge while still being sensitive to her needs. She will return happily and generously whatever she receives.

Pisces has a sincere need to please, but the overbearing type will easily wilt her strengths. Indifference will zap her strength and leave her with little to give. A man would be wise to listen carefully to her responses. To truly unlock the power of Pisces requires a careful balance of sensitivity and strength, which will be rewarded many times over.

ROMANCING YOUR MOON SIGNS

By Konstantin Lucas

Astrology as most people know it tends to focus on sun signs, which is what horoscopes are based on. In fact, a full natal chart is completely unique and no two people have the same chart unless they were born at the exact same spot at the exact same moment. Even twins are born far enough apart to have very strong differences in their charts.

Your sun sign represents your most outward personality and is considered the most important point in your chart. The next layer in a person's personality would be the moon sign. It lays the foundation upon which all your inner emotional nature is built. It says more about whom you are deep down in side.

Of course, our emotional sides are full of vulnerabilities, so the qualities of the moon sign remain more hidden. These are the parts of you that close friends and lovers come to know. You may have dated two men of the same sign only to find them entirely different. It's possible they had entirely different moon signs.

This book looks at how your moon sign influences who you are and how this affects your relationships. You can also use this material to gain some insight into the motivations—some beautiful, some frightening—of yourself and your partners in much more detail than sun signs can provide.
